

CHRIS G. WHIPPLE, Ph. D.

Dr. Whipple is a Principal in Environ International's Emeryville, California office. His expertise is with the management of risks to health and the environment; his experience includes work on risk assessment methods, risk management, regulation, and risk communication. Major emphases of his work have been with risks associated with radioactive wastes, with hazardous air pollutants, and with risk communication. He has served on numerous national committees to study and advise on radioactive waste management, including committees of the National Academy of Sciences, Environmental Protection Agency, and National Council on Radiation Protection and Measurement, of which he is a member. He was elected to membership in the National Academy of Engineering in 2001. Dr. Whipple was a charter member of the Society for Risk Analysis and served as its second president. In 1990, he received the society's outstanding service award. He is a Fellow of the American Academy for the Advancement of Science and of the Society for Risk Analysis. His experience prior to joining Environ includes positions as Vice President of ICF Consulting, Vice President of ICF Kaiser International, and Technical Manager for Environmental Risk Assessment of EPRI's Environment Division.